CITY OF EVERETT HOLDS FIRST TIME HOME BUYERS SEMINAR

On Thursday, April 27th Mayor Carlo DeMaria and the City of Everett hosted a first time home buyers seminar. The seminar guided and helped consumers who have never purchased a home and don't have much experience with real estate and may be especially interested in gaining tips from professionals.

The seminar focused on the buying process from application to closing and special programs and loans for first time home buyers. In addition to, obtaining a free pre-approval and why now is a great time to buy.

In conjunction with City officials, Attorney Francis Larovere, Eagle Bank and MassHousing participated in the first time home buyer workshop. The City partners proved to be a good source for additional speaking expertise on various aspects of the real estate transaction.

Mayor DeMaria stated, "Purchasing a home is one of the most important financial decisions a person can make in a lifetime and can be incredibly rewarding. By providing seminars like this we want to encourage young people to stay in Everett and enjoy our wonderful community."

The planning department held a similar workshop last fall and looks forward to holding another workshop this upcoming fall.
