MICHAEL “MARTY” MATARAZZO PRESENTED WITH KEY TO CITY Mayor DeMaria thanks Matarazzo for friendship and service to Everett

On Thursday, June 29th Mayor Carlo DeMaria, Representative Joseph McGonagle, City Council Members, municipal officials, friends and family came together to celebrate the retirement of the City Clerk Michael Matarazzo and to thank him for his years of public service and his friendship.

Mayor DeMaria took the opportunity to thank his long-time friend and co-worker for his thirty-six years of dedication and service to the City of Everett and to present him with a key to the City of Everett, letting Clerk Matarazzo know that Everett will always be his home.

“Mike has been a friend, colleague, and mentor of mine,” said Mayor Carlo DeMaria. “His love of Everett knows no bounds from serving on the Common Council to Clerk to Chairperson of the Everett Historic Commission. Mike’s passion for public service and his dedication to the City has been an inspiration to all and I will always appreciate his wisdom and advice. I want to wish him well on his retirement and future endeavors.”

Mayor DeMaria, Representative McGonagle, City Council Members, and other guests reminisced on stories about Matarazzo and highlighted how respected and appreciated he is as a mentor and friend.

City Clerk Matarazzo said, “City employees care greatly about the job they do and I truly love the people I have worked with. I will continue researching our City’s rich history and look forward to helping younger individuals to pursue a career in public service.”
