- Information on the proposed pocket park, at the St. Therese development, was updated. Currently, all pictures contributed to the project have been sent in for inclusion and development. The date for purchase of a memorial brick has passed, as of late March. The Chairman has been in constant communication with Virginia Adams, Senior Architectural Historian at the Public Archaeology Laboratory, Inc., located in Pawtucket, RI, regarding the layout of pictures at the pocket park. Also, all pictures have been processed and returned to their original owners.
- Mrs. Ells will research any potential grants having matching funds to help pay for the installation of historical plaques at various Everett historical sites.
- The Historical Commission is interested in developing a booklet about Everett's rich history. We will look for a booklet developed many years ago in hopes of updating it and building upon historical information already published. We will also check websites to see if it has been digitized as well as speak with Mark Parisi, at the Parlin Library, for further direction.
